

The Best Organized and Relentless Conspiracy in American History!

Crimes of the Educators exposes for the first time the most diabolical conspiracy in American history, conceived and waged against the American people by the nation's smartest progressive educators. Their aim was and still is to replace our individualistic Constitutional Republic with a collectivist, socialist society modeled on Edward Bellamy's Looking Backward, a fictional fantasy of a communist America in the year 2000. The head of this conspiracy, educational philosopher John Dewey, described exactly what was needed to dumb-down the American people in an essay, "The Primary-Education Fetich," published in 1898: Simply change the way reading is taught in our primary schools. Get rid of the traditional phonics method and replace it with a new progressive sight method that reduces the literacy level of the nation. His essay was the conspiracy's blueprint for action. He wrote: "Change must come gradually. To force it unduly would compromise its final success by favoring a violent reaction."

Can the American people, at this late date, prevent this conspiracy from achieving total victory? That is now the greatest challenge facing the American people. For those who still wish to live in freedom, their response will be the most crucial in determining America's future.
