The Editor
Daily Mirror
New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

May I commend you on having the finest anti-Communist newspaper in the city. Yours is the only newspaper I look forward to reading. Your editorials on Cuba are the best I've read anywhere.

I also commend you for having three of the best columnists of the country in your paper: Winchell, Riesel, and Fulton Lewis, Jr. If only more newspapers were as forthright and honest about the dangers facing us, this country would be much better off.

Please keep up the good work. We need more of what you are doing, not less. I know this may sound like a far-fetched idea to you, but a column by Ayn Rand would get you a lot of new readers. She appears in the Los Angeles Times each Sunday, and there are lots of people willing to pay 50 cents just to read her column. I know a few people who buy the L.A. Times each week at the out-of-town newsstand merely for Miss Rand's column. She has quite a following.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Samuel L. Blumenfeld
