Dear Ronald,

Enclosed is Alex Beam's Boston Globe column about me and the Marlowe-Shakespeare book. Am also enclosing a brochure and a press release. I would very much enjoy giving a lecture on this subject on your 2010 cruise. But I can also address the issue of education.

My latest book, Revolution via Education, deals with the takeover of our government schools by the socialist Progressives whose aim it has been to destroy our Constitutional Republic and replace it with a socialist, collectivist society. The last election indicates how successful the left has been in preparing Americans to accept psychologically and morally to live in a socialist society.

The most important institution in a socialist state is a government owned and controlled education system. Until conservatives become serious about getting government out of education, the left will continue to brainwash young Americans in their anti-American ideology.

Lectures on both subjects would, I think, enhance and enrich the attendees' cruise experience. I hope you agree.

With kindest regards,
