

SAMUEL L. BLUMENFELD

73 Bishops Forest Drive Waltham, MA 02452 781-899-6468

Sblu123@verizon.net

July 18, 2009

Stephen D. Cox
Humanities 0306 UCSD
9500 Gilman Drive
La Jolla, CA 92093-0306

Dear Stephen,

Herewith is Isabel Paterson's manuscript. As you can see from the title page, it was brought to me by a literary agent who never bothered to take it back. So it has sat in my files for almost 50 years.

I am also enclosing some correspondence I had with Muriel Hall, who had control over the publishing rights to The God of the Machine. At that time in 1961, I was in the process of creating my own book publishing company, and I was eager to reprint Isabel Paterson's great masterpiece. However, Muriel finally decided not to go ahead with the project.

I would love to read your biography of Paterson. Do you have an extra copy you could send me? I might be able to do a review for World Net Daily.

By the way, nothing came of Ayn Rand's offer to do an Introduction to a new printing of The God of the Machine.

With best regards,