Dear Mr. Blumenfeld:

I have just read your book entitled N.E.A. Trojan Horse in American Education, and I would like some of the information in this book presented to our students. The majority of them come out of Christian schools, but for the most part, they have only vague and ill-defined reasons for being opposed to public education. Most of them have no idea what a powerful political and education force the N.E.A. is today. When they graduate they are going into a world that is shaped by the product of these schools whose system is producing illiteracy.

If you can come, we would call a special convocation and invite friends in the local community to join us as well. You would speak to approximately 6000 people. We could set up a press conference if you were interested, and I would also like to interview you on the University's national weekly telecast entitled SHOW MY PEOPLE.

Please let us know what your fee is and if there are any periods from September through November that would not be suitable to you.

Thank you, and I look forward to hearing from you. Kind regards.

Sincerely yours,

Bob Jones III

Dear Dr. Jones:

Thank you for your very kind invitation to address a convocation at Bob Jones University. I would be delighted and honored to do so.

As for dates, any time between September 9 and 27 would be good, as I shall be on tour in October and November.

I would appreciate an honorarium of $1,000.

Please let me know how much time I would have at the podium.

With kindest regards,

Dear Dr. Blumenfeld:

Thanks for your gracious letter. We look forward to having you on September 24 for the special evening convocation. We have scheduled a teletaping for SHOW MY PEOPLE at 3:00 that afternoon.

On Wednesday, September 25, you are scheduled to speak at 9 a.m. to the educational psychology class. Dr. Tim Watson is the teacher; and we will arrange for the details of getting you there, of course.

Wednesday afternoon at 1 p.m. a press conference will take place and will conclude in plenty of time for your 3:10 p.m. departure.

You will stay in one of the University's lovely guest rooms, and your ticket will be mailed to you by Unusual Tours.

Thank you for your gracious offer to teach on Wednesday and to have a brief question-and-answer period following the Tuesday night meeting. I greatly look forward to making your acquaintance.

With admiration and appreciation I remain,

Sincerely yours

Dear Mr. Blumenfeld:

I appreciate having had the opportunity to meet and have fellowship with you during your recent visit to the campus. Your presentations here made a valuable contribution to the students' recognition of the menace of public education.

I congratulate you on the remarkable progress you have made, in the short time you have been a bornagain believer, in coming to an understanding of Christian education. You will, no doubt, have many opportunities to minister to many in our movement.

I have put together some materials that may be of help to you in your desire to become more familiar with the Christian education movement and that you may find useful in trying to help others in the ministry. They are being sent to you separately.

May God bless your ministry.

Dear Friend:

Unfortunately, I was out of the country when you spoke here last September: but I have heard so many good comments from the faculty and students that I am very eager to meet you.

I would like to suggest to the Executive Committee of our Board of Trustees that they vote to confer upon you an honorary degree, doctor of laws, at our May 24 Commencement, which will be held at 9 a.m. Before I propose a man's name, however, I always like to approach him to find out if he is interested and would like to have a degree and can be here to receive it. The Committee has been very kind in accepting my recommendations over the years, and I would hate very much to suggest someone and have them vote on him and then find out he was not interested. Would you, therefore, write me right away to give me your frank reaction to this suggestion.

PLEASE NOTE: NO ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE RECIPIENTS OF HONORARY DEGREES IS MADE HERE PRIOR TO THE EXERCISES AT WHICH THE DEGREES ARE CONFERRED. I WOULD APPRECIATE IT, THEREFORE, IF YOU WOULD KEEP THIS LETTER IN THE STRICTEST CONFIDENCE AND NOT SHARE IT WITH ANYBODY EXCEPT YOUR WIFE AND THAT YOU PLEDGE HER TO SECRECY.

God bless you.

Dear Dr. Jones:

Thank you for your letter of April 9th.

I would indeed be quite honored to receive an honorary degree from Bob Jones University at your Commencement on May 24, and I shall be more than happy to be with you on that very special occasion.

It was most kind of you to consider me worthy of such an honor, and I am deeply appreciative of the University's recognition of my work.

Please rest assured that all of this will be kept secret by me until the exercises are completed.

Dear Friend:

Thank you for your April 11 letter. I am happy to tell you that the Executive Committee agreed unanimously with my recommendation that you be awarded an honorary degree at our Convocation program on May 24. A copy of the Commencement week schedule is enclosed.

We will provide accommodations for you and your wife for Friday and Saturday nights and will put aside two tickets for the play and concert on Friday. We also want you to be our guests for meals in the Dining Room.

Because of crowded conditions at the University during Commencement and the demand for tickets, we will not be able to accommodate as our quests any additional members of the family. We are sorry about this; but if you want to bring some family members or friends, we will be glad to have Unusual Tours assist you in any way they can in making reservations for you at a motel, and you can contact Programs and Productions about additional tickets for the programs.

The information requested on the enclosed sheet is needed in order to make your stay as comfortable as possible. We would appreciate your returning it to us just as soon as possible, but at least by May 1, in the envelope provided.

When you arrive, please stop by the Information Desk in the Administration Building to pick up information which you will need.

We look forward to having you with us. God bless you.

Dear Mr. Blumenfeld:

Dr. Bob Jones, chairman of the Board of Trustees, has notified me of the honor that will be bestowed upon you on Commencement day; thus we are looking forward to having you participate in the special Convocation exercises on May 24. Members of the administration will do what they can to make your visit a memorable one.

We want to give good publicity coverage to this event, and we would appreciate your help. I would like to have at your earliest convenience complete information concerning your present and former ministries, positions held in organizations, etc. Naturally, we will want the names and addresses of your parents (if living), high school from which you were graduated, names and addresses of your in-laws (if living), and wife's maiden name. Please give us the names of the colleges you have attended and the degrees you have received and the dates.

All of this will be kept in strict confidence until after Convocation; however, we will be grateful for all of the information you can give us. This is one time you can forget your modesty! We would rather have too much material than not enough.

We are asking the men in the academic procession to wear dark navy, black, or oxford grey suits, black shoes, dark ties, and white shirts. On Saturday, May 24, please report promptly at 8:15 a.m. to the lobby of the Administration Building. You will be fitted for your academic regalia at that time. Promotional pictures will be made at 8:30 in the Conference Room of the Administration Building. You will also be given information concerning the marching procedures. During the ceremony, you will be introduced for your honorary degree by a member of the University faculty.

Dr. Bob Jones will present your diploma to you, and Dr. Bob Wood, executive vice president, will place an academic hood over your shoulders before you are seated. If you have any questions after your arrival on the campus, I will be glad to see you.

Dr. Philip D. Smith

Dear Dr. Smith:

Thank you for your letter of April 24. My main claim to fame is having authored six books on education:

HOW TO START YOUR OWN PRIVATE SCHOOL -- AND WHY YOU NEED ONE (1972)

THE NEW ILLITERATES (1973)
HOW TO TUTOR (1973)
IS PUBLIC EDUCATION NECESSARY? (1981)
ALPHA-PHONICS: A PRIMER FOR BEGINNING READERS (1983)
NEA: TROJAN HORSE IN AMERICAN EDUCATION (1984)

Dr. Terrell Bell, former Secretary of Education, has characterized IS PUBLIC EDUCATION NECESSARY? as the "classic" formulation of the anti-statist position on education. Medford Evans has called me "one of the three best writers in this country on the subject of public education." And John Lofton, writing in Human Events (April 26, 1986), said of me: "He is a gentleman and a scholar who has written some of the most important books ever written about education in America."

I was born and raised in New York City where I graduated from Stuyvesant High School in 1944 and then enlisted in the U.S. Army. I served in Italy during the closing days of World War II.

I attended the City College of New York and was graduated in 1950 Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Arts degree. I then attended the University of Paris where I studied French Civilization and was awarded a Certificat de Presence.

From 1953 to 1965 I worked as an editor in the New York book publishing industry and was associated with four prestigious firms: Rinehart & Company, The World Publishing Company, The Viking Press, and Grosset & Dunlap.

In $1960\ \text{I}$ founded the American Committee for France and Algeria, and in $1961\ \text{founded}$ American Friends of Katanga.

In 1965 I became editor of Western Islands, the book publishing division of The John Birch Society. Subsequently I wrote for The Review of the News and American Opinion.

Many thanks for your good fellowship and input at the CEA meeting in Tampa. I thought it was a wonderful meeting and that the Lord was present. Your remarks at the administrators' breakfast were enlightening and well-received.

Enclosed is a statement recently written and published by several of us which addresses a growing problem among Christian educators; namely, a willingness to believe that accreditation is acceptable now and that somehow accrediting associations do not seek the control they formerly did. Some Christian educators are saying that accreditation does not mean compromise and dictates from the ungodly like it used to.

If the present move concerns you as much as it does us, any chance you have to address it among Christian educators would be helpful.

Kindest regards.

Many thanks for your letter of November 6th, with the impressive brochure for HELP 2002. I am more than happy to accept your invitation to be a keynote speaker at the conference in 2003, specifically on Monday, June 2, 2003 at 7 p.m. I always consider it an honor to be able to speak at Bob Jones University.

The topics I have in mind are the following:

The Importance of History in Christian Education

The Importance of Home Education in Christian America

How Home Education Strengthens and Enriches the Christian Family

Why a Free Society Needs Educational Freedom

Why We Need a Christian Cognitive Elite

How to Apply Your Family's Philosophy of Education to Your Own Children

Please let me know which topic you would like me to speak on for the conference. I am also enclosing a copy of my book, Homeschooling: A Parents Guide to Teaching Children. Some of the chapter titles might suggest other possible topics. Also, I am willing to speak at some of the workshops if needed.

It was great seeing you at the CNP conference in Boston. When I tell people that I got my Honorary Doctor of Laws degree from BJU, their jaws drop in awe. I shall ever be grateful for that great honor.

It was a tremendous privilege to have you here on campus this week. Your ministry was greatly appreciated and, I believe, will bear eternal fruit in the lives of some of these home school families.

It was an even greater privilege to be able to fellowship personally with you over lunch. Thank you for your warmth and kindness in conversation. I would imagine that talking with two younger men could be a boring chore for a man with a mind as active as yours is; however, it was extremely beneficial for the two of us. Thank you for sharing so much of yourself with us. We got a great deal out of the time spent with you and are very grateful to you for it.

I trust that your stay was refreshing and that your return trip was uneventful. Thank you again for your ministry among us this week and for the joy of your Christian fellowship.

Thank you for arranging your schedule to be here and for sharing your heart and expertise with us. Apart from our students, there's not a group of people anywhere else that the BJU faculty and staff enjoy pouring their lives into more than these H.E.L.P. conference families. Obviously, there is a great deal of work during the week on many shoulders involved in caring for them—conducting workshops, feeding and housing, and otherwise combining efforts to make this a worry-free week for home educators. Their enthusiasm and gracious response are ample reward!

I surely do regret that speaking engagements away from the campus caused me to miss the fellowship with you as well as your message to the group. Dear Mr. Jones:

Thank you so very much for your gracious letter of June 16th. It was indeed a pleasure lunching with you and David Orr and sharing my views on the Shakespeare authorship problem. Your keen interest encouraged me to finish my work on this controversial subject.

I am enclosing a copy of Christopher Marlowe's Doctor Faustus, which I hope you will enjoy reading. It is no doubt the most Christian play to come out of the Elizabethan era, and I'd be interested in your reaction to it. Perhaps BJU will consider staging it. I was greatly impressed by the preparations that were being made for Cyrano. I was also impressed with the portraits of yourself and other BJU players in their various Shakespearean roles. BJU's commitment to Elizabethan drama is one of the things that makes the university such a great cultural asset in a world where popular culture has reached the lower depths.

It was also a great pleasure being able to participate in the homeschool conference, and I am grateful to your father for the invitation. I consider the homeschool movement to be the brightest development in our quest to restore America to its Christian roots.

Dear Dr. Jones:

Thank you for your very gracious letter of June 21, 2004. I too regret not having been able to enjoy fellowship with you since you were away. Thank you for having invited me to take part in the H.E.L.P. conference. My talk was very well received. I was greatly impressed by the commitment Bob Jones University has made to the Christian homeschool movement, and I hope that my contribution enhanced BJU's efforts.

I had lunch with David Orr and your son Stephen during which I told them of my present research in the Shakespeare authorship question. I also discussed Marlowe's Doctor Faustus as a possible future theatrical production by BJU. It is the most Christian play to come out of the Elizabethan era. I am enclosing a copy of the play for you to read at your leisure. (I've also sent Stephen Jones a copy.)

David Orr showed me the extensive preparations being made for Cyrano. I was also impressed with the portraits of yourself and other BJU players in their various Shakespearean roles. BJU's commitment to Elizabethan drama is one of the efforts that has made the university such a great cultural asset in a world where popular culture has become an affront to a Christian nation.

I have also submitted to BJU Press my latest manuscript, A Short Uncensored History of American Education. I hope you will find it worthy of publication.

Again, my thanks for permitting me to enjoy such stimulating fellowship among homeschoolers and the very hospitable staff of Bob Jones University.

Faithfully yours,
